[What Kind of Game Is It?]

The object of the game is to make the same face as the card in the picture and have other players guess correctly!

[Basic Rules]

Game Preparation: Place the orange cards on a table with the picture of the face up so that everyone can see. Mix the blue cards and put them in a pile. Decide who the dealer is through Rock-Paper-Scissors.

- (1) The dealer draws a blue card and without looking at the picture of the face places it to their forehead, showing the card to everyone but themselves.
- (2) When the dealer says, "Funny Face Match!" everyone tries to make that funny face.
- (3) The dealer guesses which funny face was being made and chooses 1 among the orange cards on the table.
- (4) If the orange card matches the card on the player's forehead, they have succeeded. The player gets the blue card they held to their forehead as well as a point. They then choose the player whose funny face was the best match and give them an orange card, which also counts as a point. If cards don't match, then it is a mistake. The blue card held to the player's forehead is put aside. (Does not count as a point).
- (5) It is the next player's turn to be dealer. If there are 5 or fewer players, play 2 rounds, and if there are 6 or more players, play one round.
- (6) The player with the most cards is the winner. ①

[2-Player Game Rules]

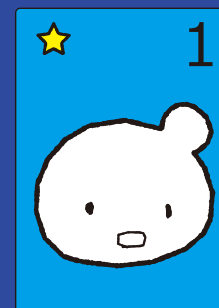

- (1) The dealer draws a blue card and without looking at the picture of the face places it to their forehead, showing the card to the other people but themselves.
- (2) When the dealer says, "Funny Face Match!" the other people tries to make that funny face.
- (3) The dealer guesses which funny face was being made and chooses 1 among the orange cards on the table.
- (4) If the orange card matches the card on the player's forehead, they have succeeded. If the cards don't match, the game is over.
- (5) The players take turns as dealer and repeat.
- (6) If the players succeed 6 times in a row, they win the game.

Use the numbers on the cards when discussing the cards. The number of stars has nothing to do with the game. When playing with small children, use the number of stars as bonus points.
